True capability begins with the right training. That's why Trio offers three genres of training. Trio is a Defense Acquisition University (DAU) Certified Equivalent Provider (CEP) offering functional training across the full life cycle of defense acquisition and capability development. Classes are conducted in our state of the art NoVA facility, or at client's location. We also offer complete classes applicable to PMP certification and continuing education. Our world class LMT training immerse students in the proven concepts, ideas and practices that great managers and leaders share.

TRAINING

CONSULTING

Trio's consulting business is focused on defense capability development. We're able to leverage the certified experts from our training business to the benefit of our consulting clients. After all, who better to provide the expert support you need than those who actually train the acquisition workforce? As for the types of capability we support, there is no limit, but Trio is exceptionally able to support C4ISR and Unmanned capability development. Trio is ready to support government or industry across the capability life cycle, including ...
