

Company Overview

Trio Consulting, LLC (Trio), headquartered in the Northern Virginia DC metro town Lake Ridge, VA, is a premier provider of Business Management, Defense Acquisition and Leadership Development Training to Federal and commercial clients. Trio Consulting is a Defense Acquisition University (DAU) Certified Equivalent Provider (CEP) offering functional training across the full life cycle of defense acquisition and capability development. As such, Trio develops courseware and curriculum that meets or exceeds the learning objectives established by DAU for each course. Trio's catalog of courses and diverse subject areas make us the leading provider of DAU equivalent training. In addition, Trio offers a wide range of world-class Business Management and Leadership programs which represents the important elements critical for any successful business or organization.

TRIO CONSULTING

To further advance our Leadership Development and Talent Management portfolio, Trio has formed the Leadership Certification Institute, a consortium of leadership and management consulting and coaching professionals based in the Washington, DC area and across North America. The Institute works closely with Trio in developing innovative programs in Leadership Development, Strategy Design, Project Management and Business Management for clients in business, government and non-profits.

With its introduction of the four levels of Leadership certification: Bronze (Individual), Silver (Team), Gold (Organizational) and Platinum (Societal), Trio Consulting's certified leadership program is the premier training partner of the Leadership Certification Institute. Our Certified Leadership Development Program enables leaders to define their strengths and accomplish career goals through a lifelong development of leadership skills. Trio works with the best leaders and help them become better. The programs are a continuation of leadership growth that focuses on strategic thinking and its application to the business environment with a focus on results.

The Institute has an extensive proprietary library of learning, consulting, coaching and workshop resources developed and continually refined over the past 35 years. It also is licensed to use proprietary individual and organizational assessment tools. In addition to its proprietary library, the Institute routinely incorporates the work of thought leaders in strategic planning, talent development and business process to customize solutions for its clients.

Trio Consulting is a premier Defense Acquisition University (DAU) Certified Equivalent Provider (CEP). This partnership with the defense acquisition community and the DoD, enables Trio to offer DAU's vital and critical training not only to active duty military and DoD civilians, but also to industry as well. Trio develops and courseware that is reviewed and certified by DAU to be equivalent to DAU's offerings and delivers that training both in our Northern Virginia facility or your facility. All Trio students receive the same credit towards Defense Acquisition Workforce Improvement Act (DAWIA) certifications as if they had taken the course at DAU. This capability is unique and important for DoD organizations' mission accomplishment and the industry partners who proudly support them.

In addition to Certified DAU training and Certified Leadership programs, Trio's Training and Development Program offers dozens of other management and technology training and development programs successful organizations need to have to ensure the best staffs possible. They include PMP, Continuing Education PDUs, Certifications, Lean Six Sigma, Business Development Certifications, and Business Management.

Trio Offers this this training in a variety of ways. Individual registration is easy and convenient through our web site. Trio also offers individuals a unique training, learning and development first. We call it Training & Development Plus (TD+). TD+ is a low cost outsourced training source that enables organizations and individuals to access all their training, learning and development needs from one partner who understands their business. Trio adds new training under the TD+ program when you need it. This ability to access all the training you and your staff need, for one low cost investment, can be a critical enabler to take any organization to the next level and beyond.

Trio also is proud to operate the Trio Business Center. The Biz Center provides office facilities to small and startup companies which includes everything you need to succeed, and at a price a fraction of traditional business incubators. We provide hands-on, personal advice and support to help your business succeed. It's like renting a storage facility and getting an office with a business consultant instead. In keeping with our commitment to support our nations military and veterans, Trio Biz Center invites transitioning veterans starting their own business to join for free.

Trio brings to bear our expertise in defense, business and leadership in serving defense related consulting clients. Trio's Consulting Practice applies these and other expertise to the entire defense capability development life cycle. Our defense consulting capability offers particular expertise in the areas of Unmanned Systems (air, ground, surface and underwater) and Command, Control, Communications, Computers, Intelligence, Surveillance and Reconnaissance (C4ISR).
